CONSTANTINOPLE, July 7.

ON the 2d Inſtant, the Perſian Ambaſſador ſet out for Iſpahan, where we hear the Sophy his Maſter is with an Army of 260,000 Men. The Ambaſſador was not ſaluted as uſual when he went away, after having receiv'd his Re-Credentials. The Porte has diſpatch'd an Ambaſſador to Perſia, who is order'd to travel Poſt all the Way. Of the four Articles demanded by Kouli Kan, three are actually agreed to, but the fourth, relating to the Eſtabliſhmen of a certain Sect at Mecca is ſtill objected to; tho' 'tis believ'd that even this Demand will be granted at laſt. Great Armaments are making here both by Land and Sea, but for what Cauſe is not known.

Madrid, July 24. N. S. The Italian Expedition is not in ſuch Forwardneſs as were to be wiſh'd. All Things indeed are ready on the Part of the Court, but that's not enough: Some Diſpatches relating to it arriv'd Yeſterday from our Ambaſſador in France, but we don't hear they are of ſuch a Nature as to haſten it. The Sardinian Embaſſador here, does not viſit the King's Miniſters ſo often as heretofore, nor does he ſeem to be ſo welcome at Court. The Expreſs we expected from America, with Advice of the true State of Affairs there, being not yet arriv'd, 'tis fear'd it has either fallen into the Hands of the Engliſh, or that they keep the Ports ſo block'd up, that no Advice Boat can ſtir out. We have no News neither of Admiral Torres, nor the Galloens. M. de Navarre is ſtill at Cadiz with his 16 Men of War, and Admiral Haddock has been again ſeen off of that Harbour with his Fleet.

Berlin, Auguſt 8. N. S. We hear from Sileſia, that Prince Maurice of Anhalt, being detach'd to the other Side of the Oder, with a Battalion of his Regiment and 600 Huſſars, enter'd Namſlau, and found a great Quantity of Meal, Rye, and Hay, with 800 Rations or Day's Allowances to each Soldier of Bread, which the Enemy in Garriſon abandon'd at his Approach, P. S. It is juſt now reported, that our Army decamp'd on the 4th from Strehlen, in order to advance to the Enemy.

Francfort, Auguſt 10. N. S. A Declaration from France is arriv'd and publiſh'd here, in Subſtance as follows, viz, 'That 'ſeveral Electors and Princes of the Empire have diſcover'd to 'his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty, as Guarantee of the Treaty of 'Weſtphalia, their Uneaſineſs at the great Body of Troops aſſem-'bled by the King of Great-Britain as Elector of Hanover, which 'may be a Conſtraint on the enſuing Election of an Emperor, 'or be employ'd againſt ſome Member of the Empire; that 'therefore to fulfil his Engagements, he had reſolv'd to ſend 'ſome Troops forthwith towards the Rhine, that they may be 'ready to march in caſe of Need to the Aſſiſtance of ſuch Electors 'and Princes as ſhall challenge his Guaranty; and that this Pro-'ceeding ought not to be conſider'd as tending to the Violation 'of the Pragmatick Sanction, but as having no other View than 'the ſecuring the Peace of Germany, and providing for the 'Freedom of the Election of an Emperor.'

London Auguſt 10. Their Excellencies the Lords Juſtices in Council have iſſued a Proclamation for taking off the Prohibition on the Exportation of Malt from Great-Britain.

The Paris Letter of Wedneſday laſt ſays, that the Marquis de Villeneuve, who is return'd from his Embaſſy to the Ottoman Porte, was introduc'd to the King on that Day Se'nnight, and gave him a Letter from the Grand Signior: And

That laſt Friday Se'nnight died, in the 44th Year of her Age, Mary-Anne of Bourbon, Conde Mademoiſelle de Clermont, one of the Princeſſes of the Blood, and Superintendent of the Queen's Houſhold, Her Mother was the Charming Dutcheſs of Bourbon, the legitimated Daughter of Lewis XIV. by Madame de Monteſpan; and the deceaſed, who was born October 16, 1697, had an ample Share of her Wit and Beauty, with ſuch an Air of Quality, Good-Nature, Modeſty and Sobriety, as diſtinguiſh'd her from all the great Ladies at the French Court.

On the 19th ult. O. S. died alſo, at Vienna, in the 72d Year of his Age, the Governor of that City, viz. Philip-Laurence the Count de Daun, Prince of Thiano, a Knight of the Order of the Golden Fleece, a Privy Counſellor of the late Emperor, Velt Marſhal of his Forces, Colonel of a Regiment of Foot, and alſo Colonel of the City Guards.

The Baron de Pollnitz, in whoſe Memoirs we have the Characters both of this and the above-mention'd Perſonage, takes Notice, that this Count was ſix Years Viceroy of Naples, ſix Months Governor of the Netherlands, and afterwards four Years Governor General of the Milaneſe; and that when he return'd to Vienna after the French and Savoyards had taken Milan in 1733, ſeveral Articles of Complaint were exhibited againſt him, but he made ſo full a Defence, that the Emperor had the ſame Confidence in him as before. It may be remember'd, that the Marſhal commanded at Turin in 1704, by the Emperor's Permiſſion, at the Requeſt of the Duke of Savoy, and defended it againſt the Duke of Orleans, till Prince Eugene came and oblig'd the Enemy to raiſe the Siege.

1733

We hear Orders have been ſent to Brigadier General Guiſe's Regiment of Foot quarter'd in the North of Scotland, to embark at Inverlochy for the Weſt of England, there to join the other Troops for America.

WILLIAMSBURG, Octob. 23.

On Monday laſt, his Honour in Council, was pleaſed to order Writs to be iſſued, to the ſeveral Counties, &c. to elect Burgeſſes for a new Aſſembly, which Writs are returnable the 28th of November next.

The ſame Day his Honour, in his Charge to the Grand-Jury, in a very preſſing Manner, enjoin'd them to diſcourage Vice, Prophaneneſs, and Immorality, to the utmoſt of their Power; and particularly to ſuppreſs Gaming: In Conſequence of which, they made Preſentments againſt ſeveral Ordinary-keepers in this City, Norfolk and other Places, for ſuffering Gaming in their Houſes, contrary to the wholeſome Laws of this Colony for that Purpoſe made; whereby they have incur'd the Penalty of Ten Pounds, and are liable to to have their Ordinary Licenſes taken from them. 'Tis hop'd this commendable Proceeding of the Grand-Jury, will have ſo good an Effect as to prevent, for the future, any Ordinary-keepers from ſuffering Gaming in their Houſes: And it were to be wiſh'd a Penalty was laid on the Gameſters, as well as the Ordinary-keepers, who many Times ſuffer it with Reluctance, for fear of diſobliging their Cuſtomers; which would be a more effectual Means to ſuppreſs that too faſhionable Vice.

BOSTON, November 2.

Laſt Tueſday Capt. Thompſon, in his Majeſty's Ship Succeſs, (our Station Ship) arrived here, by whom we have Advice, that on the 23d of October paſt, about 80 Leagues to the Eaſtward of Cape Anne, they met with a Sloop in the greateſt Diſtreſs imaginable: She came from Belfaſt in Ireland, and was bound to Philadelphia with 108 Paſſengers; but having been out 17 Weeks, they were ſo diſtreſſed for Proviſions, that about 30 had died for want, among whom were the Maſter, and all the Sailors but one, ſo that they could neither manage the Sails, or ſteer the Veſſel. They had eat up all the Tallow, Candles, &c. and for ſeveral Weeks had fed upon the Bodies of thoſe that died; and when the People from the Succeſs went on board, they found the Body of a Man lying upon Deck partly cut up, and his Arm and Shoulder then boiling in the Pot, in Salt Water, (which had been their only drink for a long Time) and ſo eager were the poor famiſh'd People for the Fleſh of their dead Companions, that many of them had conceal'd Pieces of it in their Pockets, to eat as they had Opportunity. Capt. Thompſon was ſo affected with their miſerable Circumſtances, that he behaved towards them with the utmoſt Humanity and Compaſſion; he put on board a Midſhipman and three other Hands to navigate the Veſſel, and gave them Beef, Bread, Water, Wine, and many other Neceſſaries ſufficient to ſupport them for ſeveral Weeks, ordering the Proviſions to be at firſt given to them with the utmoſt Diſcretion, according to the Doctor's Advice, at the ſame time directing them to ſteer for this Port; and laſt Saturday the Sloop arrived, but ſo many of the People have died ſince the Man of War left them, that their Number is reduced to 62, and ſeveral of them are ſo weak that 'tis feared they will not recover. All poſſible Care is taken of them, by Order of the Select Men. The Maſter's Name was Ebenezer Clark, and the Owner's Name is Joſiah Thompſon, who lives in New-Haven in Connecticut.

Laſt Week Capt. Mc'Neal arrived here from the Bay of Honduras, who touch'd at the Muſketo Shore, where they had Advice by a Dutch trading Veſſel from Chagre, that Commodore Anſon had taken the City Panama in the South Sea.
